PORTLAND'S war-bond golf tournament is over and it will not be forgotten in a hurry by those who competed. Even if the golf itself didn't reach the anticipated standard, there would have been a little drop of an all-time high for water being met. It probably was a bit rough on the promoters, too, as attendance must have been hit.

Sam Snead's comeback was made under very trying conditions, but the former Canadian open champion made an excellent job of it and more power to him. Any divot wielder who can finish just three away from par under those conditions certainly must have what it takes.

Just four-and-a-half of course proved Henry Martell's downfall, but the Alberta champion made great work in cutting a 74, the same as Mike Turner's final round. The noted golfer that Byron Nelson would win 10 over par and Jug McSpadden 14 off, which would seem to be the limit on playing conditions. Tying for fifth in a field of 48 of the best players in the land was no small accomplishment for Martell, especially when his score was only one away from the winner Harry Givan.

Henry Martell Shoots a 74 In Final Round at Portland

By CARL ROBERTSON
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
PORTLAND, Nov. 27.—Henry Martell made a strong comeback in the final round of the $15,500 open which wound up Sunday and sneaked in under the wire to pick up one of the $100 War Bonds given each of the ten top amateurs.

He finally hit the form which he had established in his one of the season's finest amateur tournaments when he shot a 74 in the final round. The best amateur score during the meet was a 72.

The Edmonton gentleman had a total of 310, six strokes back of Harry Givan former Walker Cup player from Seattle who topped the field. He was tied with four other players for 5th place. Martell took an 80 opening day, but got back in the running with a 76 in the second round. He was in the swim and had a swim most of the time as rain over the course, but he slipped to 77 in the third round. He was out in 27, two over par, but slipped to take 10 in the fourth round.

For the first time during the tournament it failed to rain Saturday and Martell found conditions much more to his liking. He had a 76 in the first round, but he slipped one shot from regulation figures with a 34 on Sunday. He took a 70 on the black nine.

CARDS 75 ON SATURDAY
WHEN OVER COMING IN
PORTLAND, Nov. 27.—(CP)—Edmonton's Henry Martell closed through waterlogged fairways and green grass on Saturday to finish three-round score of 236 here Saturday.

"I didn't shoot any good golf today but I saw played," he said, referring to the 76 he shot in Jimmy Johnson of Dearborn, Mich., who three putted three times to finish 70, which was two under par. Johnson is in Martell's breasome.

Martell had one good shot. Going into the rough under trees on the seventh, he took a 76 and hit the green and the green 140 yards away, and he hit the hole.

The clear weather Sunday suited Martell much better than the rain of the previous two days. Although Martell three-putted on the 18th hole, he was strong enough to place on the 22nd hole, he was long with his woods and accurate with his iron.

Martell's score by rounds was 81-76-74-79.

Wins Portland Open Sam Snead Cracks Monopoly Of Golf's "Gold Dust Twins"

By RUSS NEWLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The "comeback kid" did it yesterday—slammin' Sam Snead, making his first major golf tournament start in more than two years, won the 72-hole Portland open with a score of 289.

Recently discharged from the United States Navy after 16 months service, the colorful Hot Springs, Va., pro cracked the tournament monopoly known as the "Gold Dust Twins," the combination of former national champion Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., and Harold McSpadden of Philadelphia.

Since Snead went into the service after winning the national PGA title in May 1942, Nelson and McSpadden between them have cleaned up on the bulk of the country's tournaments. Nelson being the leading money winner of this year and his running mate in a second place.

NELSON TIED FOR FOURTH
They were pretty much out of the running in the Portland $15,500 War Bonds event, started on Saturday open tournament season. Nelson finished in a tie for fourth place, at 286. McSpadden ended for 287 with 300 and a tie for fourteenth.

NOSES OUT TURNESA
Snead, meanwhile, pocketed the prize of $200 in war bonds. Once the leading money winner in a single year, Snead was estimated at $1,000 last year in sunny clear weather.

Snead trudged through four rounds to wind up only a single stroke over par.

NOSES OUT TURNESA
Snead nosed out veteran Mike Turner, who had won the Portland tournament four rounds of 70-74-73-72 for his 286. Turner caught 71-73-74 for 291.

John G. Lewis, local pro, slipped into third place with a finishing 73 for a total of 285. Exchange Nelson, the tournament favorite, shared fourth position with Bruce Clark, Aberdeen, for 290.

Fred Wood of Vancouver, one of the best British professionals, finished seventh with 288 and won $500 in war bonds.

Says Must Send Germans Home

Dr. F. Owen, professor of modern languages at the University of Alberta, speaking at a meeting of the arts group of the Edmonton-Canadian-Friendship Council at the University of Alberta Friday evening, explained that peace in Eastern Europe will not be attained until all German people are sent back to Germany, unless they elect to stay.

He said that it would be a bad mistake to leave German-speaking people where they are, in Poland and in the Baltic areas. Forcing these people to go back to Germany would avert the cost of a civil war in Poland. He traced the history of Poland, and said that it had always been a buffer country between Germans and Slavs, and for centuries had been a battle ground for the two peoples. "Poland is a springboard for any attack on Russia," he said.

Speaking of the present situation, Dr. Owen said that the "retrograde" government in London represented the interests of the large landowners and church influence. After the war, the USSR will be the strongest military power in Europe, and eastern Europe will be a Soviet sphere of influence.

Cable "On Fly"

About 300 feet of half-inch cable was taken from the city airport about 3:30 p.m. Sunday, according to city police. The cable, officers added, had caught into the wheels of a plane as it took off. It was not learned if the cable was located, as airport officials believed it would drop from the plane.

Christmas "Spree" Has Started Here

City stores were crowded Saturday with shoppers on their annual Christmas buying spree. There are only 25 more shopping days until Christmas.

Believing the Christmas buying spirit, stores were rushing ahead decoration plans and gay Yuletide colors already were appearing. Citizens were selecting and buying presents, determined to avoid last-minute carousels, crowded streets, jostling street crowds.

Stores already have set aside a section for Christmas "toyland" and busy clerks were showing customers the latest models in toys. Children can count on receiving a sturdier and generally better line of toys than they have received in the past few seasons, and parents will be glad to know that improved toys won't cost more.

Practically all toys are made of wood, but toy-makers apparently have learned quickly how to make realistic wood replicas of metal machines. Some of the wooden gadgets are actually an improvement over the peacetime metal models.

The rush of customers Saturday was concentrated around counters where Christmas cards, gay wrapping, toys and other Christmas gifts were stacked. Jewelry stores reported that many Edmonton women already could count on receiving jewelry for Christmas. The early rush has been particularly marked at the novelty counters.

Typhoons may hit the Philippines in any month but are most frequent between July and November.

Religious Triumphs in Far Places Related at Missionary Conference

Russia has emerged from paganism into a religious life. From an unsatisfactory experience of their religion, communism came, that not only turned people away from it at the inception of its regime, but definitely passed a law to educate a new generation into the life of religion. Instead of approving of atheism, instead of any religion that would acknowledge the supremacy of God, according to the Rev. M. Billester, speaking to a well attended congregation in First Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, for the World Missionary conference.

The speaker went on to say they completely failed and Stalin was forced to acknowledge the fact two and a half years ago. Russian people are just as religious now as before the coup to 80 or 90 per cent of them, therefore they have been given a comparative freedom, not a complete religious freedom, but freedom of worship.

EDMONTON SPEAKER

The Rev. A. Cunningham, a native of Edmonton, speaking on South America, said "The key to the missionary problem is in the hand of God, and that key is prayer."

He said Brazil being the largest of its republics, is said to have more unexplored territory than the whole continent of Africa. Some explorers have forced their way into the vast interior, following the course of the main rivers. Others who have entered the jungle depths have been killed by the wild Indians who roam those jungles. It was to the wild Indians in these forest reaches said Mr. Cunningham, that his heart was turned in response to the great commission and command of the Lord.

Informal religious gatherings were held. The Indians seated with clubs, guns, etc. beside them, the speaker said. They took great interest in singing and love music. Three years later 25 Indian boys set in Sunday school, clean and clothed with shining faces, repeating the Lord's Prayer, Apostles Creed and scripture verses, in their own dialect.

Mrs. F. T. Schwab, a missionary from Alaska, told of the beginning of Moravian missions. In 1722 two young men left their homes in Germany, on route to the West Indies to carry the Gospel to the negro slaves, so conserved were that they were willing if need be to sell themselves into slavery. From that day forward the Moravian Church has distinguished itself by her wide spread missionary work, going always to the lowliest, least promising aborigines all over the globe.

GREAT SUPERSTITION

The speaker went on to say in this northern land in which there are long dark nights, there is darkness also of another sort. "In the first years of our work superstition and secrecy abounded, sickness and accident, believed to be the work of medicine men, and the people dwelt in fear, but at length, through the blessing of God, conviction entered the heart of one of the more prominent of the shamans and he was converted to Christianity. He was a powerful witch doctor, and after his conversion he became a powerful preacher of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Miss D. Ellen Edwards, missionary from Northern India, has spent two terms of service in that land, and plans to return next year.

In an "Appeal to Youth" Saturday evening she said how quickly our young people have responded to the call of our King and country, reminded her of an article she read in the India Statesman, an Indian newspaper which told of Canada's response to the call of the King in such a marvelous manner that they had to close down recruiting offices to handle it, and as she read the thought of the call of another King, the call of King of Kings and the Lord of Lords "whom shall I send and who will go for me?" She prayed that from all over the Christian world there might be just as great a response to the call of Jesus.

A world missionary pagant directed by the Rev. T. Stephen was presented in the evening. The opening scene was that of the "Upper Room," the part of John being taken by Lilly Collett of All People's Mission.

Each group in colorful costume representing its mission field, passed through a specially erected door on the stage, each having its own spokesman.

FIELDS PARTICIPATING

The fields in order of the participation were: India, the Pentecostal Church, Korea, Metropolitan United Church, China, Chinese United Church, mission, Negro United Church, Shilo Baptist Church, the new pastor, the Rev. Fairfax, sang two spirituals: Central Europe, All People's Mission, Miss Jean Kiminski spoke on Japan, All People's Mission Japanese congregation, Africa, Beulah Tabernacle, Balkans, Central Baptist Church, British Guiana, Presbyterian Church, American Red Indians, John Law of Alberta College, Brazil, Inter-Varsity Fellowship group, Arctic Eskimo, Anglin Church, in charge of Mrs. H. Gutteridge—this group included a red Eskimo who with a Moravian missionary sang a duet in Eskimo language.

Music was supplied by Mr. Roberts of Beulah Tabernacle.

Lighting effects were by Robertson United Church young people. The Rev. S. Wedman presided at the conference in the afternoon, and the Rev. E. P. Wahl presided in the evening. A conducted tour of the World Service clinic was a feature of the afternoon session. In the evening moving pictures and a song service were held.

Russ-Canadian Meeting Delegate

Anthony Omeink, 960 182A avenue, a delegate to the second congress of Russian-Canadians in Toronto in November, has returned to the city. He is secretary of the Edmonton branch of the association.

The second congress was attended by 128 delegates representing 38 branches of the federation of Russian-Canadians and Russian church societies. This congress attracted the attention of all organized Russian-Canadians. There were also representatives of the Doukhor communities of Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Basement Sleeper

A man who entered the premises of another, late Saturday evening, was taken to his own residence by city police. Alex Zima, 963 101 avenue, told officers he had gone into his basement and discovered the stranger sleeping there.

Two-Fold Objective Is Seen For Schools of Coming Era

Schools of the coming era must be utilized not only as an agency to serve society, but also as an agency to uplift and rebuild the society it serves, according to John Burke, special representative of St. Joseph's high school, who addressed the Catholic Laymen's Forum in St. Mary's school auditorium Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Burke, speaking on "Education and Reconstruction," charged that under present day conditions, education, has often been the sole motive for education, and that ever-growing of "dry, academic and classical knowledge" has constituted a false approach in the past to the field of education.

STRESS POSITIVE SIDE
"We must re-interpret our idea of education and stress the positive side by which we are made aware that we have definite responsibilities to society—and this we must do through the school," Mr. Burke declared.

"We must educate for society, and we should look to Christ for a model, for Christ was the most social being who ever lived. In the whole of his life, his life hardly any mention is made of any act that was not for someone else."

The speaker said it was unfortunate that in the modern world many people disagree about the interpretation of Christ's message, so that His name and fame cannot always be safely introduced into education. "Even we agree on the point and purpose of the Gospel—we have not always kept before us Christ as an ideal—and we, too, have in our education gone astray in past of strange gods," Mr. Burke stated.

Education in the future must not be left entirely in the hands of the experts, he went on. While the administrative and technical details of all functions of society must be left in the hands of experts, the broad objectives of education—its aims and purposes—must remain the concern of all the people.

"We who are Christian must insist that education is not an end in itself, but a means to an end, a means, if you like, to bring man nearer to God," said Mr. Burke.

"If the school is to perform an organ of society, we must bring the school and community into closer contact." Home and school associations and social education were means suggested by the speaker to effect this closer relationship.

Education today has a three-fold aspect: whereby we transfer to youth some portion of the accumulated knowledge of the race. It is a training in citizenship, and it is a training in the business of making a living. The forum was held.

Mr. Burke called a Christian concept of education, as stated by Pope Pius XI: "Christian education takes in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral, domestic and social, not with a view of reducing it in any way, but in order to regulate and perfect it in accordance with the economic and teaching of Christ."

It must never be forgotten that the example and teaching of Christ is man, whole and entire, united to body in unity of nature, with all his faculties natural and supernatural, such as right reason and revelation show him to be.

MUST MEAN MORE
"Education should mean all these things, but to us who live in a democratic world it must mean more," said Mr. Burke. "It is of one and the same time the heart, blood and lungs by which our democracy lives and breathes."

"Certainly if the school is to take the child and mould him into a desirable citizen, it must fit him for life in a democratic state. I suggest to you that this should be done in a democratic environment."

"The school and family should always be acutely conscious of the rights of the individual pupil. When a student takes a dislike to his school and his teachers, perhaps we should do well to admit that the trouble may lie in some measure in the school itself, or in the family or even the teacher. In any case such a child should not be considered merely as a brat to be punished, nor a nuisance to be ignored, but as a problem to be solved."

Mr. Burke asserted that until now the prime objective of our educational system has been to prepare young men and women to get better jobs. "This false ideal has resulted in a two-fold evil," he stated. "There has been a constant tendency to create a class division in the field of education, using education as a sort of 'secret weapon' against our less fortunate neighbors in the struggle for survival."

Next Sunday's meeting will feature discussion on "Youth Lacks at Social Reconstruction." Speakers will be Don MacGillivray, Anna Fong and Jack Fitzgerald.
